We place highly qualified staff with employers in Asia, Africa, Latin America and Europe.

The Ministry of Environment of the Republic of Moldova in Chisinau, Moldova is looking for a

Lawyer or Environmental Scientist for environmental law (m/f)

We are looking for you:

The Ministry of Environment needs your expertise for the harmonization of its environmental law with the respective guidelines of the European Community, above all in the field of climate protection. Against the background of the treaty of association between Moldova and the European Union finalized in 2014 the Ministry is responsible for the reform of the existing legal framework. In addition to the harmonization of the climate protection laws and ordinances it is planned to boost the capacity of project development and to enhance the implementation of climate protection projects.

Your responsibilities

- Harmonization of the climate protection law with the standards of the European Union
- Support the development of climate protection projects
- Carrying out training sessions and giving advice for co-workers of the Ministry on legal harmonization and the development of project proposals

Your qualifications

- Advanced university degree in Law or Environmental Science or related degrees
- Very good knowledge of the EU climate protection legal framework and EU association processes
- Professional experience in the field of climate protection
- Professional experience in project development including knowledge about relevant financial instruments
- Business fluency in English
- Nationality of an EU-member State

Your qualifications

- Diverse range of activities with a high degree of personal responsibility in an international context.
- Cooperation with organizations for international cooperation.
- Professional preparation for your overseas placement.
- Local contract as an integrated expert for the next two years with the possibility for contract extension.
- Attractive premiums and benefits on top of a local wage.

Please note: This vacancy is currently open and applications will be considered on a rolling application basis.
